Roosevelt's Memory Honored by Campbell

President Roosevelt's birthday, or "Americanization Day," as it was designated by Gov. Stephens, was celebrated in Campbell with impressive exercises staged in the shadow of the redwood tree planted by Mr. Roosevelt on May 11, 1903 in the High School grounds.

The committee which had arranged the exercises included I. W. Snow, E. W. Allen, Mrs. Ellen R. Smith and C. H. Whitman. Rev. J. O. Duncan acted as chairman and interspersed his announcements with interesting quotations and comments on the principles of the late president.

Rev. H. L. Preston offered the invocation, calling attention to the lessons to be drawn from this great man's life.

Geo. E. Atkinson reviewed the incidents connected with the planting of the tree, which he witnessed, and spoke briefly of the lessons taught by Roosevelt to his sons while on their many hikes—endurance, courage and mastery of difficulties.

Another side of Roosevelt's career was touched upon by Miss Agnes Howe, County Superintendent. She called the attention of the school children to the wonderful way in which he developed his physique, overcoming a great handicap of physical weakness. She also dwelt upon his literary achievements, naming a number of his works, and emphasizing the worth of his book, "Winning the West."

Mr. I. W. Snow read the words of President Wheeler when the degree of Doctor was conferred upon President Roosevelt by the University of California, and also the words of the latter in reply, as showing his attitude toward the educational institutions.

Mrs. H. C. Smith read an article from the Literary Digest: "Lest We Forget," after which an organization was effected to continue these memorial days. The officers chosen were: president, E. W. Allen; vice president, C. H. Whitman; secretary, Miss Mary Lewis; treasurer, I. W. Snow.

The Campbell Grammar School children were present in a body and the High School girls with them, while the boys were in their uniforms, and with equipment formed another interesting group.

The school children gave their donations to the memorial fund, and other contributors may leave their money at the Campbell Press office.

Notice to Service Men

House of Representatives, U. S. Washington, D. C., October 22, 1919.

Mr. H. C. Smith, Campbell, Cal.,

Dear Sir—I have been advised by the War Department that every enlisted man in the American Army was entitled to permanently retain, upon discharge, the following property:

1 overseas cap (for all enlisted men who have had service overseas) or 1 hat and 1 hat cord for all other enlisted men, 1 olive drab shirt, 1 service coat and ornaments, 1 pair breeches, 1 pair shoes, 1 pair leggings, 1 barrack bag, 1 waist belt, 1 set toilet articles (if in possession when discharged,) 1 slicker, 1 overcoat, 2 suits underwear, 4 pair stockings, 1 pair gloves, 1 gas mask, and helmet (if issued overseas,) 3 scarlet chevrons.

If the above articles of clothing and equipment were not received upon discharge, they may now be secured by certifying to the facts.

Both officers and enlisted men are entitled to retain the gas mask and helmet if same was issued to them overseas.

Those who desire can make application direct to me, and I will take great pleasure in forwarding the necessary blanks, and shall do everything possible to procure the desired property for them.

I will appreciate it if you will run a notice in your paper, giving the facts as I have stated them above, as every enlisted man ought to receive all that he is legally entitled to at the earliest possible moment. Many of our discharged soldiers were not advised of this fact.

Sincerely yours,
H. S. Hersman.

Leaguers Make Canvass

The Epworth Leaguers have finished plans for a thorough canvass of this community in the interest of the churches. It is their desire to secure the names and ages of all the children in the families, and their church preference. This is to enable them to carry out more successfully the "Winning Chum" campaign which is in progress at the present time, and which ends with three evenings of evangelistic meetings between the 9th and 16th of November. The Leaguers desire the earnest and hearty cooperation of the people when they are called upon, and solicit their aid in all of their good undertakings. The League is a progressive, live and earnest factor in the lives of the young people of the community, and is planning to give them a chance to enjoy its socials and other good times all winter long. Co-operate with them, and make their work a success. Watch for articles from time to time which will announce the programs of the League, and remember that all are always welcome at all times.

Bolshevism Discussed

The auditorium of the Methodist church was well filled Monday evening with an attentive audience gathered to hear Dr. Tully Knoles. Preceding the address Mr. W. C. Bohnett favored the company with a violin solo, with Mrs. Emily P. Gard at the piano. Dr. Knoles' lecture on "Bolshevism" was one of the most clearly thought out and logically presented that Campbell is often privileged to hear.

Although a subject of great interest to many, few have had the opportunity of first-hand information and the time to devote to research which Dr. Knoles has given to it, and Campbell was indeed favored that a man with so many demands upon his time and energy should respond to the request of the Woman's Club and devote an evening to enlightening our citizens, as he did.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Hyde left this morning for an extended trip combining business and pleasure. They will visit most of the larger cities between here and the Atlantic coast, and a number of the eastern cities, returning about the first of the year, when they expect to move into their recently purchased home on Campbell avenue.

Potatoes at a Low Price

We have a few sacks of local potatoes, clean, white, and sound, to sell by the sack at 3c a pound. They are not quite so smooth as Salinas stock, but the quality is good, and the price, on an advancing market, is very low. They won't last long at this bargain figure.

You like to know when stock is new and fresh; so you'll be interested in learning that we have just received our Fall supply of Log Cabin Syrup, pints, to sell at 30c, and quarts at 60c. There's no syrup quite so popular as Log Cabin.

By association, one naturally thinks of hot-cakes along with syrup. It's appropriate, then, to mention that case of Encore, in the 35c size, that we have just opened. In a cereal, such as this, you are particularly anxious to know that the stock is fresh. So with fresh hot-cakes and fresh syrup, the family can be happy at breakfast on these fresh, cold mornings.

Please remember that "Blaine's" is a service store, which means free delivery and all else that is included in the word service. Down South there is a man who runs a chain of stores of the "non-service," cash and carry, type. He paints his store fronts a startling red, and compels his clerks to wear shirts of the same brilliant hue. Recently he remarked, "In placing my stores I always shun the better-class neighborhoods." He said much in little. We conduct a service store for exactly the opposite reason—because better-class people, the kind with whom we like to deal, generally prefer service accommodations.

LITTLE GIRL VICTIM OF 'UNLOADED' GUN

Brother Points Pistol At Sister Who Drops With Bullet in Her Brain

San Francisco.—The revolver "that wasn't loaded" claimed another victim early Thursday morning, October 23, when 15-year-old Maurice Dugnan accidentally shot and killed Imelda Dugnan, his nine-year-old sister, in the parlor of their home at 1176 Rhode Island street.

The little girl, mortally wounded with a gaping bullet wound in the forehead, died in the automobile of Supervisor John D. Hynes, who was passing the house, and was taking the injured child to the Potrero Emergency Hospital.

Maurice Dugnan killed his sister with a policeman's revolver after he playfully pulled the trigger, believing the weapon to be unloaded.

According to the story related to the morgue officials, Policeman James J. Muldoon, attached to the Southern Station, after reporting off duty, reached the Rhode Island street home of his uncle, Michael Dugnan, to participate in a midnight supper to which he had been invited.

When Muldoon reached the Dugnan home shortly before midnight, the two Dugnan children were in bed. With Muldoon's arrival, the children, attired in their nightgowns, arose to greet their cousin.

Muldoon says he took his revolver from the holster and took out the cartridges before he placed the pistol on the parlor table.

"I thought I had abstracted every cartridge," Muldoon told Deputy Coroner Michael Brown.

Maurice Dugnan, the 15-year-old boy, picked up the weapon as Muldoon left for the dining room. His little sister was in the parlor.

Policeman Muldoon had left the parlor but a few moments when the report of the revolver was heard. Rushing into the parlor, he found the little girl on the floor, mortally wounded. Maurice, too hysterical to talk, dropped the revolver and ran screaming to his father and mother.

Supervisor Hynes, who was passing on a campaign expedition, heard the shot. With Muldoon he placed Imelda Dugnan in his automobile and made all haste for the hospital.

Arriving at the Potrero Emergency Hospital, the child was placed on the operating table. Physicians said she had died on the way to the hospital.

Michael Dugnan and his wife, Catherine, were prostrated by the tragedy. Maurice, their son, was too agitated to give a coherent version of the shooting other than say, "I thought it wasn't loaded."

Muldoon, who lives at 247 Tenth avenue, was visibly affected by the accident. He told the police he believed one cartridge had stuck in the revolver when he abstracted the cartridges.

Monterey.—Strong odors from the fertilizing departments of the various sardine canneries along the New Monterey and Monterey water-fronts have become so oppressively objectionable of late that the Monterey Chamber of Commerce, after a strenuous meeting in which general condemnation was leveled at the cannery owners in vigorous terms, instructed Secretary W. R. McIntosh to address a letter of protest to F. E. Booth, owner of the biggest cannery, and therefore alleged to be the chief offender. The chamber contends that proper management would forestall the spread of the terrible odor. The city council was also called upon to take action. Incidentally Herbert Hume, manager of the Booth canneries, has been arrested on a misdemeanor complaint sworn to by Chas. E. Maud, charging him with violation of a local ordinance which relates to the permitting of unwholesome, disagreeable, nauseous and obnoxious smells and odors to arise from canneries.

Vallejo.—A decision has been received from the Third District Court of Appeals in the case of the trustees of the Vallejo High School District vs. County Superintendent of Schools Dan H. White, in which it is held that the employment and discharge of teachers is not a municipal affair and that the charter provision of the city of Vallejo is clearly in violation of the state constitution. The matter has been tested so often in the appellate and supreme courts of the state, says the decision, that a lengthy opinion on it is unnecessary. The case grew out of the discharge of Professor Carl H. Nielsen, principal of the Vallejo high school, without the sixty days' notice required by the charter. White sustained Nielsen in his fight. Hence the suit.

Woodland.—Clarence Flissell, former soldier, decorated for gallantry in France, and suffering from shell shock, lost control of his motorcycle on the Yolo causeway and was dashed against the rail. His left leg was broken, his ankle crushed and his left wrist fractured.

Santa Cruz.—It has been definitely stated by T. G. Philpot, local manager for the Santa Cruz Canning Corporation, that a new cannery company is to locate here and that Mr. Philpot is to handle the money of the new concern. It is said the company will have a substantial backing and will have an estimated payroll of $50,000 per year. The city will be asked to lease a portion of the municipal pier.

Palo Alto.—That too much of the price which one pays for food goes for unwholesome elements of the product, such as wrapping, transportation, advertising and other incidental cost of production, is the point made by Professor G. J. Peirce, head of the department of botany of Stanford University, in a speech before the Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce luncheon. Professor Peirce emphasized the importance of the science of botany in its cooperation with agricultural work in the feeding of the world. "The farmers must produce more per acre if the growing population is to be fed," he said.

IN WILD FRENZY TO GET SHOES

Italy's Need of Footwear Most Crying Demand of Postwar Days.

SEIZED REGARDLESS OF SIZE

Sales of Commandeered Profiteer Footwear Cause Excitement in Many Cities—Stores Ransacked by Mob for Food.

Florence, Italy.—If Dante Alighieri lived in Florence today he might be inspired to write another "Inferno," with shoes as the prime cause of evil. Nothing has been so evident during these postwar days as the need of Italians for footwear.

The recent public demonstrations backed by the Camera del Lavoro, or "chambers of labor," where stocks of goods of all descriptions in the hands of profiteers in many cities were commandeered and ordered sold at reduced prices, precipitated unusual somersaults of trade, but the wildest scrambles were in the shoe stores. Here the demand for shoes produced scenes of the wildest disorder.

Frenzy Over Footwear.

In Rome, Milan, Forli, Bologna and Naples the search for shoes continued many days. The struggles in each city were so great that few law-abiding persons tried to secure shoes. There appeared to be no attempt at fitting anyone. Shoes were handed out in boxes and the buyers took them, seemingly not caring whether they fitted or not just so they were on the basis of a 50 per cent reduction in price. It was a common sight to see a man loaded up with shoes for his entire family.

To obtain admission to a shoe store was fully as difficult as buying a ticket for a world series baseball game. For hours the shoe hunters would wait in long lines before they were finally admitted into the storerooms. Shoe merchants fixed two hours in the morning and two in the afternoon for the opening of their stores, but the long line was waiting for shoes several hours before the scheduled time arrived.

Impatience on the part of the crowds caused, in most cases, the summary seizure of goods and the resort to ransacking. Food stores were treated first in this way, but the lawlessness soon spread to clothing and shoeshops. Stores ransacked would be depleted of every commodity—eatable, wearable or portable. There were examples in Spezia of carrying out all the commodities, loading them in a motor truck and taking them some four or five miles outside the city for distribution. Whole hogheads of wine were rolled out of the city in this way and distributed.

It seemed as if the mob had designated for them the stores to be looted. There was apparently the most systematic pillaging of those accused of war profiteering. Merchants known to have violated governmental regulations by selling prohibited articles during the war were treated in the same way.

Soldiers sent to restore order in some cases were charged with accepting gifts from the rioters and at other times filling their pockets with eatables, including biscuits, fruit, nuts and chocolate.

The new situation created by the arbitrary commandeering and fixing

Made Wife Wild Pick; She Seeks Divorce

Providence, R. I.—The word "obey" in the marriage vows does not necessarily mean that a woman must juggle a pick and shovel to please her husband. Mary A. Satchell was awarded a counsel fee of $25 and $7 a week pending further hearing after telling Judge E. W. Blodgett of the Superior court her husband made her wield these implements. The woman wants a divorce from Joseph A. Satchell, who rested his case after saying he had been married seven years, and that they seemed to him like seventy-seven years. The warring couple left the courthouse by separate exits.

of prices is now beginning to react. Storekeepers are refusing to run their businesses on the new basis, while there is evidently a general shortage throughout the various cities affected by the new economic changes. Many well-to-do families who have always been lawabiding have found themselves suddenly unable to buy food.

Some merchants have closed their shops and gone to summer resorts in the hope that when summer ends the eruption will have subsided and there will be a return to normal conditions.

Brave Death to Serve Armenians

American Nurses Ignore Perils of Massacre to Care for Sufferers.

CHILDREN ARE DYING DAILY

Starving Refugees Eat Grass and Alfalfa—American Commission for Relief Is Doing Great Work in the Near East.

Constantinople, Turkey. — Two American nurses, Miss Margaret Mack of Hillburn, N. Y., and Miss Ruth Stuart of New York city, working for the American commission for relief in the near East, declined to abandon the sick and wounded at Shusha, Armenia, after having themselves survived a massacre by Tartars of 700 of the Christian inhabitants of the town, according to a letter just received here by Maj. David G. Arnold of Providence, R. I., director of the commission.

"Our doctor and nurses were in the midst of the fight, but were unharmed," says the letter. "On advice from General Beach I recalled the two nurses. They came reluctantly as there was an urgent need for them among the survivors. The spirit Miss Mack and Miss Stuart have shown has been splendid and I felt that they should be allowed to return if they went as volunteers. They signed papers to the effect that they knew the danger and that they were returning to their work at their own request."

Mending Magnetos With Thread. A humorous touch to an otherwise tragic situation is related by a relief worker at Oulou Kishla, who writes:

"The men working out from Oulou Kishla are covering a large territory and obtaining large experience. Their chief outdoor sport is dodging camel trains and leaping culverts. Coaxing the missing spark plug from its hiding place vies with mending magnetos with thread as the chief form of recreation. It is a rule that after the explosion of the twelfth tire each day the flier knocks off and its riders camp for the night, sharing their pillows with any roving rodomontary in the vicinity, and giving a treat to the predatory mosquitoes. There is a warm box car in Oulou Kishla, and a cook loaned to the commission by Mr. Oscar of the Waldorf. No one is to have his name or address because the world is full of guile."

The commission has lost three members by death, Paul D. Pelter of New York city, the Rev. R. S. M. Emerich and Miss Edith M. Winchester of Philadelphia, who was among the first to volunteer for work in the typhus ridden Caucasus.

Starving Children Die Daily. Just before her death Miss Winchester, in a letter from Tiflis wrote: "The sights about us are heartrending. A refuge two blocks from our office yesterday fed 1,800 starving children. We are feeding them once a day. And once a day the cart goes around to collect the eight or ten little corpses that have accumulated. Refugees are eating grass and alfalfa. The alfalfa they eat raw; one can always see children nibbling it."

From Batoum comes word that "there are 150,000 Greek refugees lack of the city who are gradually being pushed out by the Russians. Thousands are fed at an American soup kitchen. Adana has 12,000 refugees and 18,000 more are in nearby villages."

Ancient Idol Dug Up. Kalispel, Mont.—An idol, pronounced officially by the Smithsonian Institution Washington, to be of Aztec origin and at least 10,000 years old, has been dug up in a sandpit near Eureka. The idol is of stone. It is evidently of a god and sits on its legs with its hands folded in its lap. The thing has a Chinese look, but photographs sent to Washington brought a reply that it is an Aztec idol. The sculpturing is of a high character. The question now is how did the Aztec idol get to Montana.

Missouri Catfish Milk Cows. Butler, Mo.—John Whitman, a farmer residing along the banks of the Marias des Cygnes river, near here, has a famous herd of some 20 cows, which heretofore have been wonderful milk producers. Recently he noticed a decrease in the amount of milk they gave. One hot afternoon Mr. Whitman found the cows wading in the river to keep cool. While in the river catfish were milking the cows, thus reducing the amount of milk he received.

LAUGH AND GROW FAT

There is no definite information as to how much Miss Hilda Flack (the young lady in the above photo) laughs, but there is undisputable visual evidence of her stoutness. The young lady is a resident of Essex, England, and caused an uproar in the local school when her absence one day was explained by the fact that she couldn't secure a pair of shoes large enough to fit her little feet. Our photo shows the diminutive Miss Flack, who is thirteen years old endeavoring to get a very large-size ladies' shoe on her foot, said endeavor being quite unsuccessful, as you can see.

Richmond.—Asking $100,000 damages, K. C. Shurick of Oakland has filed a suit against the city of Richmond, former Chief of Police Charles Walker and City Health Officer C. R. Blake, for his alleged false arrest and imprisonment for a violation of the "flu" mask law effective in October, 1918. Shurick claims he was kept in jail for two days, which caused him to suffer from loss of business and injured him socially.

Modesto.—A transmission and distribution system for the power plant that is to be developed in the Don Pedro irrigation project will cost the Modesto irrigation district $238,000 as its share, which, added to the cost to install the power plant at the dam, $190,000, makes the total $248,000. The transmission line is estimated to cost $30,000, which is included.

Marysville.—The Yuba-Sutter Chapter of the Red Cross has decided to meet its quota of $6000 for the $15,000,000 Red Cross drive with funds from its treasury. As a result, the people of these two counties will have but the usual Christmas demands of the organization to meet.

Hard Work and Long Hours.
"Did you see the bunch of fellows parading for miles from 6 o'clock in the morning till 5 in the evening" and then standin' up for hours listening to speeches?" asked Mr. Rafferty.
"I did," said Mr. Dolan. "Who are they?"
"They're the lads who say they're morally opposed to working more than six hours a day."

"What's the matter? You don't seem to be enjoying yourself?"
"My boss is sitting at the third table over there to your left, and I can tell by his look that he's wondering how I can afford to blow myself at a place like this."
"Some members of the nobility make it a boast that they have never worked."
"Nothing much to boast of. I have men in my employ who can say that."—Kansas City Journal.

A SONG OF TRUST
Just any world-weather—the storms in a throng.
Or the peace of the valleys whose flowers are a song.
No shoutin' for glory when thunderbolts fall;
Then we're far from the spirit of shoutin' at all!
For the sky couldn't hear us—storms hidin' the blue,
And Thunder ain't wantin' any "Amen" from you!

When it's time for high talkin'
To folks here below
They can't hold the pulpit
With Thunder, you know.

"Just any world-weather!" It's been just that way
Since the Sun took the task for to make up the Day;
Told the ghost-walkin' Darkness 't was time for goody
And the Stars ran away from the Morning-made sky.
Shadow-time—light-time—just one thing to know:
The world's on the way that God dreamed it would go!

And that way's the best way
In storm or in light
Till the last stars shine fainter—
Sweet-singin' "Goodnight!"

—Frank L. Stanton in Atlanta Constitution.

Gridley.—No trace of Mrs. G. R. Idle, wife of a local telegrapher, has been found. Chico.—John Levy, caught robbing a store here, is dead of typhoid fever. He complained of being ill while in jail, but the authorities thought he was merely trying to get out. When a physician finally was called, he was found to have typhoid, and was too far gone to be saved. The physician says the robbery was committed while the man was delirious from disease.

Chico.—Escaping from the asylum at Ukiah, Samuel Armstrong, an ex-soldier, demented, took an automobile and drove to his father's home in Chico. Here he held at bay two soldiers from Letterman Hospital, who came to take him to that institution, for several hours before he was overpowered.

STOP! CALOMEL IS QUICKSILVER

It's mercury! Attacks the bones, salivates and makes you sick.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.
It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and cannot salivate.
Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.
Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more billousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.—Adv.

Literally.
"The woman yonder is openly leading a double life."
"Oh, how can you say so!"
"Isn't she taking care of twins?"

SUFFERING CATS! GIVE THIS MAN THE GOLD MEDAL

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness.
This drug is called freezone, and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.
Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.
Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.
This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns of calluses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.
Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist doesn't have freezone have him order it for you.—Adv.

KING ALBERT GETS THRIFT STAMP FREE

San Francisco School Boy Jumps Royal Car; Writes "Dear King" Letter.

San Francisco—Somewhere in the personal effects of King Albert of Belgium reposes a thrift card with a United States Government Thrift Stamp attached. The King is that much ahead. There is a kid in San Francisco who is that much out.

As King Albert stepped into his automobile after the official reception in San Francisco, Richard Siprelle, eleven years old, leaped upon the running board to sell the King a Thrift Stamp. He thrust the card and stamp into the King's hand. The King looked at him and then said, smilingly, "Thank you."

Just then the King's car lurched forward and the King was gone with the Thrift Stamp and the 25 cents for which a Thrift Stamp sells.

However, Richard didn't want the "two-bits" as the following letter which he has written to King Albert will show.

San Francisco, Calif.
1341 Grove St.,
Oct. 17, 1919.

Dear King Albert:—
I am the boy who hopped on the running board of your auto, when you was at the City Hall in San Francisco Cal. I gave you a Thrift Stamp to show what the U. S. government has there children invest in.

These stamps not only help's the government to pay its debts, but it saves money for you, so when you get big you can, take these cards which hold 16 Thrift Stamps and give to a banker and he will give you five dollars, as you make a dollar profit.

I am sending you this letter to ask if you dont think it would be a good thing, to have for the children and people, of Belgium?

I would like for you to answer.
I would also like an autograph photograph of you to.

From your unknown but always your friend

RICHARD SIPRELLE
Address 1341 Grove St.
San Francisco.

CALIFORNIA LABOR BODY BACKS THRIFT

California State Federation Recommends Government Agent in Each Union.

Bakersfield, Cal.—Recognizing thrift as an economic weapon making for independence of the workingman, the California State Federation of Labor, in its twentieth annual convention here, adopted resolutions introduced by President Daniel C. Murphy endorsing the government's 1919 thrift and war savings stamp campaign and recommending to all affiliated local unions in the state the appointment of a thrift agent with a revolving fund adequate to handle thrift and war savings stamps and treasury savings certificates. The vote on the resolution was unanimous.

After pointing out that thrift and war savings stamps afford "many of small earnings a safe, sound and guaranteed method of government investment of hard earned savings," the resolution memorialized federal authorities to perpetuate the government's war savings institution, stating that it has "stimulated freedom of action and independence on the part of wage earners."

President Murphy of the Federation said: "I feel that the continuation of the teaching and practice of thrift by the government is of vital importance to the wage earners of the nation. At this time particularly it is important that every wage earner help to bring exorbitant prices to a normal level by saving every cent he can, thus cutting down the demand for luxuries and permitting the use of the capital saved for the production of necessities."

WASTED

The National Association of Waste Material Dealers estimates that Americans throw away $700,000,000 worth of food each year. If only one ounce of food is wasted or spoiled in each of the 20,000,000 homes of America, the total loss is 1,300,000 pounds a day. As much coal is wasted annually as all the mines of the country could produce in two weeks.

Thrift and saving are needed not only in materials but in labor and money. Each added individual effort will tend toward the increase of production and consequent fall in price of necessities, but physical idleness is no less an obstacle to the reduction of living costs than financial idleness. There are millions of dollars idle in the United States through lack of proper investment which should be working for the common good. These sums if put to work would constitute the new capital so urgently needed to tide over the period of reconstruction.

Housewives waste annually food valued at $750,000,000.

DON'T FORGET the Campbell district school meeting this Friday evening at the school auditorium. This meeting is called for the express purpose of letting the school trustees know the pulse of the district concerning the disposition of the old school building. Whether you are for or against this disposition, it is your duty to be present and give voice to your opinion. Don't shift the responsibility.

Locals and Personals

Ira Campbell is nursing a broken right arm as the result of too intimate association with the mule end of a cranky Ford. He says it "never did that before, by Heck."

C. H. Whitman has purchased a Ford auto truck with which to facilitate the handling of work and material for his rapidly growing hardware and plumbing business.

The annual reception and "jolly-up" to the Freshman class at the Hi was held at the school last Friday. As a sport side issue, games of girls' base ball and basket ball were played.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Beall, Miss Beall, and Clarence Silva will leave Monday for a weeks vacation and auto trip thru the southland. Mr. Middents will dispense the pills during "Lucy's" absence.

Miss Lucy Joy arrived home Sunday evening from New York to spend two months here with her mother. On her return to New York she will take up the study and practice of anaesthesia early in January.

Observatory Lodge I. O. O. F. of San Jose conferred the first degree on five candidates last evening for Morning Light Lodge of Campbell. Quite a delegation of Campbell members went in to see the work.

The members, and their families, of the N. & S. Club, will hold one of their delightful dinners at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hyatt, on Los Gatos road. The date of this festive spread has been changed to the evening of November 7, instead of November 4.

The chairmen of the various committees of the Cambrian Parent Teachers' association met at the home of the president, Mrs. F. E. Duncan, Wednesday afternoon and formulated plans for a splendid program for the next eight months. After the business session the hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. G. S. Robson received the sad news yesterday of the death of her mother, Mrs. Blenkinsop, at their old home in England. Mrs. Robson has the sincere sympathy of her many friends as this is the third death in her immediate family this year, her father and a sister having passed away within a few months.

The following Campbell people attended the big Y. W. C. A. dinner last Saturday evening: Messrs. and Mesdames J. J. Pardee, Jas. Hyatt, R. Ainsley, G. L. Parso, Mrs. J. C. Ainsley, Mrs. Ida Thomas, Miss Emma Swope and Miss Louise Lloyd. All present report this the finest Y. W. C. A. affair yet attended.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Carboni were pleasantly surprised Saturday evening by a party of about a score of friends who just dropped in to help celebrate their twenty-first wedding anniversary. The evening was most enjoyably spent in games and music, the latter being furnished by Prof. Halamicsek, Prof. Kalas and the Misses Kalas.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hyde entertained a dinner party Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Hyde, who left this week for an extended trip east. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hyde, and Miss Ida Hyde and Dr. C. E. Hyde, of San Francisco, Miss Mildred Hyde, Harold Hyde and Master Homer Hyde.

William Wilson

Mr. William Wilson passed away Tuesday evening at the Oak sanitarium in the Santa Cruz mountains, after an illness of several years. His mother, Mrs. M. J. Wilson, took him there on Monday for temporary relief because it was known he could not survive long. It will be remembered that he was seriously injured in an auto-railway crash between Bakersfield and Taft about three years ago, and he has not been well since. Last year during the epidemic he contracted the disease and has been steadily failing ever since, tho everything in the power of science was done for him.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Wilson, and three sisters, Mrs. L. L. Miracle, Mrs. G. A. Putnam and Mrs. W. E. Hoerler. The remains were taken to Bakersfield Wednesday accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Putnam and Mrs. Hoerler. Interment was made in the family lot at Bakersfield yesterday under the auspices of the Eagles, of which order he was a member.

HALLOWE'EN DANCE

The young people of Johnson avenue will entertain the Johnson Avenue Improvement Club and their friends at a Hallowe'en dance in the Union Club House Saturday night.

The committee in charge of the arrangements are the Misses Emily Duncan, Doris Knopf and Olive McConnell and Messrs. Campbell, Maynard, Knopf and David Price.

Admission is by invitation, tickets for the gentlemen being $1, but with the members of the club as honorary guests.

Cheer-Up Meeting

The regular meeting of the Home and School Club will be held in the Grammar School auditorium at 3 o'clock p. m., Tuesday, November 4th.

The program will be in the interest of the department of Philanthropy. Please be prompt as important business must be attended to before the program.

Mrs. Grace Philbrick, supervisor of nurses at the office of the Good Cheer rooms in San Jose, will give an address upon "Advantages in having a Good Cheer Health Center in Campbell." Mrs. Philbrick has been active in the work of the Good Cheer Club for ten years and is an authority upon her subject. It is hoped there may be a large attendance.

Each member is requested to bring a plate, cup and saucer which she will donate for permanent use at club meetings. The China Shower will precede the serving of refreshments. Musical selections will also form an attractive feature of the afternoon. Let all try and secure new members now at the beginning of the year.

Mr. Elliott, who purchased the J. C. Lloyd blacksmith building, has wrecked it and is clearing off the material. The owner of the old fruit warehouse adjoining will begin wrecking that in the near future. These lots and the former Y. M. C. A. property belong to Messrs. J. C. Ainsley and B. O. Curry, but their future use has not yet been made known.

Mr. H. N. Baird, of Callaway, Nebraska, is the guest of his friend, Mr. O. G. McConnell, on Johnson avenue, this week. Mr. Baird is doing the sights of the West this season and at the same time looking about for a possible ranch purchase. While on the subject, we might suggest that he can't find a more ideal location as to climate and just folks, than we have right about here. Take the tip, "Noble" Baird.
